Editorial Policies

Manuscripts and related correspondence should be addressed to the Editor. Unsolicited manuscripts are welcomed. An article will be accepted for review provided: (a) the journal may have exclusive option on possible publication for a period of six months following its receipt, (b) it is not being considered concurrently by another publisher, and (c) the author assumes responsibility for publication clearance. Authors are responsible for the authenticity of all quoted matter and bibliographical citations and for obtaining permission from the original source for quotes of 150 or more words. The publishers assume no responsibility for statements made or opinions expressed by contributors in articles printed in the journal. All articles are covered by copyright and may not be reproduced without the permission of the publisher.

Manuscripts are carefully reviewed by the Editor and one or more Associate Editors. Those which do not meet professional standards or editorial requirements are returned. Authors of approved manuscripts may be requested to make major revisions prior to final acceptance. The Editor reserves the right to make minor editorial changes of a non-substantive nature. In regard to the preparation of manuscripts: (a) Two copies of each manuscript must be submitted. Authors are cautioned to retain a copy to guard against loss in the mail. The manuscript should be typewritten double-spaced on one side of the paper only. (b) Manuscripts most adaptable to space requirements would be five to 15 typewritten pages in length, or between 1500 and 4500 words (c) Manuscripts should be prepared in the style and format described in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (1967 Revision). A copy of the manual may be obtained from the American Psychological Association, 1333 16th Street, N.W., Washington 6, D.C. (d) A 100-word abstract of the paper should be included.
